The Warrior Life . . . it's each individual's high school experience, both good and bad. It's remembering those football games on chilled autumn nights and the suspense of a mid-winter play. The Warrior Life is also term projects and report cards . . . teachers . . . and, yes, it's that girl or guy you've secretly admired throughout high school, but could not muster up enough courage to ask out.

The Warrior Life . . . making friends, flunking tests, winning awards, and receiving 10th notice library slips. It's a daily routine; a climb up a 3-year ladder through high school and into life.

The 70's are almost at an end, and ten years of inflation and conflict are about to give way to a new decade. The future will be determined by us. Being a part of the Warrior Empire and the Warrior Life has been good preparation for the meeting of this challenge.

GUYS AND DOLLS

Where else but on Broadway could a dashing crapshooter win the heart of a mission soul-saver? Where else could a 14-year engagement endure between a Hot Box dancer and a compulsive gambler? Add to the story line eighteen crapshooters, a chorus line of Hot Box "dolls," a dozen Havanna dancers, and a mission chorus—that's "Guys and Dolls," a Broadway musical about gambling, soul-saving and love.

Harry Hakanson directed the play and Mr. Ranney conducted the orchestra.

Technical Director Mr. Wojtowicz, his stage-

CHILDREN'S THEATRE IN THE ROUND

Hideous witches, cranky old toy makers, magical mechanical dolls, sorcerers and lots of children set the stage for this year's Children's Theatre production of "Mirrorman."

Two casts performing simultaneously on different stages made it possible for everyone, including parents, to participate in the action.

1. Mary Sullivan, Craig Robbins, and Craig Mann ask the children in the audience to help them out of their predicament. 2. Different resposes to the action on stage.

2

1

The play was done in the round, with rows of kids kneeling on the floor. A mirror frame, two large boxes and a felt-covered notebook were the only props used in the show.

The play was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the children, as well as the cast.

1. "Look out for the witch?" these children's expressions seem to say. 2. All this "audience participation" can wear a girl out.

ORCH WON'T SETTLE FOR LESS

String Orchestra and Symphony Orchestra carried on the Warrior tradition of being #1, as both groups participated in the State Music Contest and received "I" ratings.

Individual orchestra members also excelled and many auditioned at All State. Sixteen strings were chosen to play in the All State Orchestra concert, which was televised.

"At home" performances included three concerts during the year and five performances of "Guys and Dolls."

Another "guest conductor," Mr. Bjella's student teacher (Yes, Mr. Ranney does direct his orchestra the majority of the time—perhaps he gets camera-shy whenever a photographer is around and finds a quick replacement ?!?). 2. The orchestra for "Guys and Dolls" came prepared—with insturments and hats.

A FIRST FOR ORCHESTRA— PLAYING IN THE FIVE SEASONS

1

Playing at Commencement was nothing new for the Symphony Orchestra, but performing this year in the Five Seasons Civic Center was a fresh experience. Playing "in the round," to audiences on all sides gave both the musicians and their listeners a new perspective.

This year's pep band was more enthusiastic than ever. In addition to playing at basketball games, these talented musicians were even asked to perform at swim meets. A Very in-demand group!

SINGERS: CHAMBER AND CONSORT

Yes, Chamber and Consort are two different groups of music-makers. Don't confuse or combine the two in an idle conversation or you're bound to raise an eyebrow or two. Both choral groups met every other day for class rehearsals to prepare them for concert performances.

A winter concert was given in the Little Theatre and a spring one in the gym. A memorable performance occurred in the courtyard when both Chamber Singers and Consort Singers joined Concert Choir and Women's Chorale in a mass choir at the Bratwurst Fest.

CONCERT CHOIR

'79 graduates Darcy Dorman, Missy Harrington, Deanna Kleitsch, and Karen Kellenberger join the Concert choir for one last number before they become alumni.

GRAPHS AUTOGRAPHS AUTOGRAPHS AUTOGRAPHS

What better set to express the theme "Take A Chance" than a giant Rummy Royale board? And that's just what MuDaCo '79 sported—a Rummy Royale board 40 feet long from corner to corner. A unique challenge for this year's MuDaCo cast was learning to walk, dance, and somtimes just stand (steadily!) on the seven degree slope of the stage.

Greg Beltz and Dave Hattery, the sometimes obnoxious (but always funny) masters of ceremony, also offered acts of their own.

Though all the acts in MuDaCo '79 deserve mention, none probably made quite the impression on the audience as the show's finale, a break-up routine performed by senior male "pom poms," the Second Stringer-First Rate Flingers.

MOMENTUM!

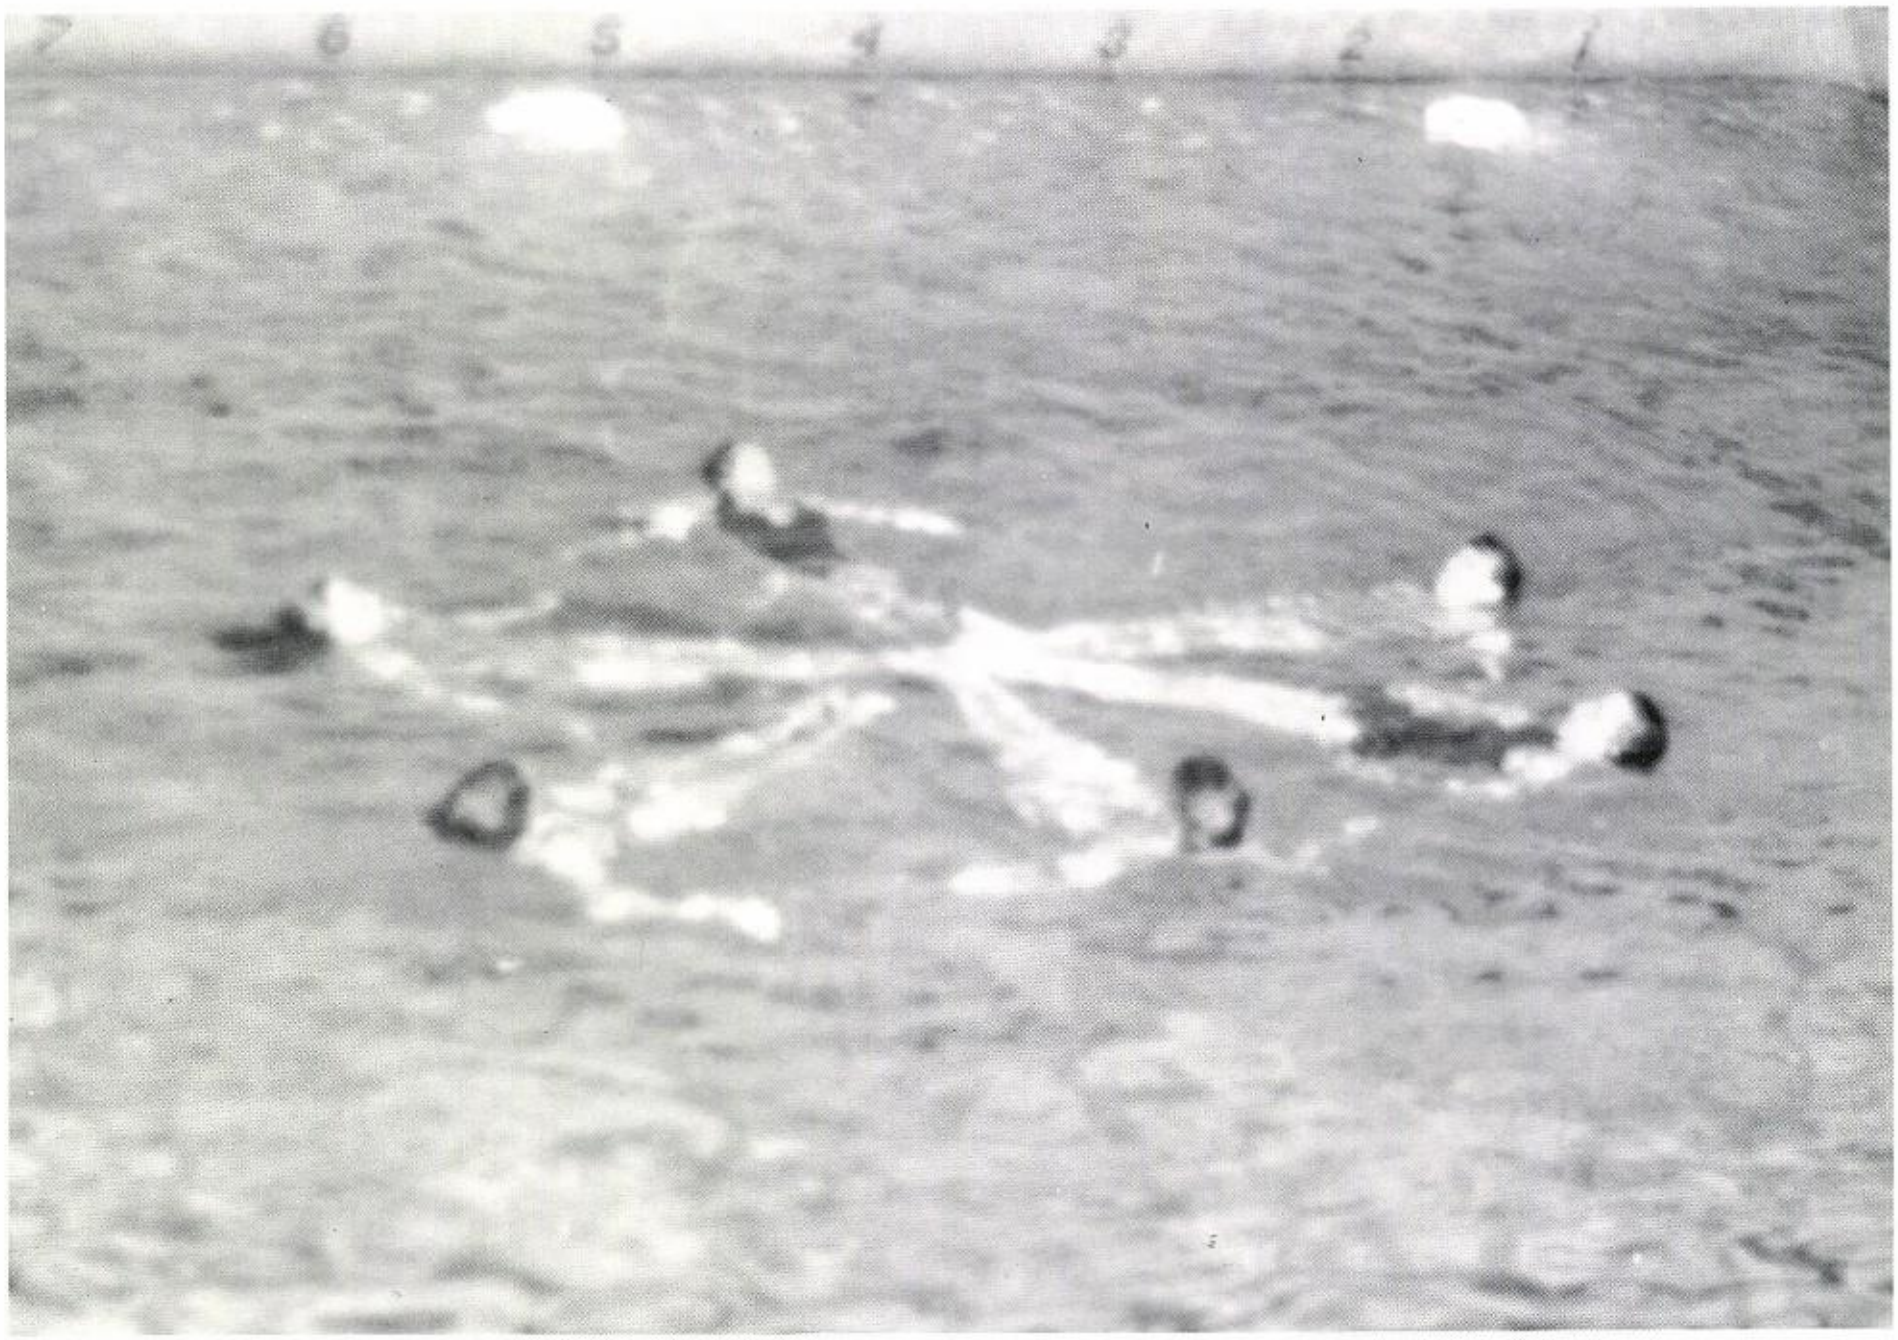
Jazz Band and Momentum offer—one last time this year—their number 1 crowd-pleaser, a fifties medley.

The Bratwurst Fest this year had something missing ... the brautwurst! Even though the courtyard concert was presented without food, there certainly was no lack of enthusiasm. It was an informal performance, given by the Concert and Jazz Bands and all choirs, and attended by family and friends.

Perhaps it was the outdoor atmosphere, or the fact it was their last concert of the season, that gave these music groups the impetus to put on a "really good show". Mr. Bjella lead his choirs to outstanding performances, while Mr. Wright directed the Jazz Band and Concert Band through some difficult selections. Jazz Band and Momentum brought the house down with their rendition of several Beach Boys numbers.

Bratwurst Fest attenders may not have gone home with full stomachs this time, but the music they carried with them was filling enough.

THE GREAT DETOUR



1

This year's Seaquins, Wash's syncronized swimming club, took a captive audience "around the world" with their show, "The Great Detour." Stops included: Russia, Spain, Austria, Germany, France, Ireland, Japan, Africa, and, of course, the USA (Seaquins demonstrated a spectacular float in the Grand Canyon! . . . well, not really!).

A lot of hard work and imagination was put into "The Great Detour" and the show did go on despite a few minor problems. There were Concert Choir tour conflicts. And Seaquins harbored strong suspicions their advisor, Ms. Pickering, was trying to knock off the officers with 5-man back dolphins and barracudas. It also seemed that whenever a rehearsal was planned the school doors would automatically lock . . . with the Seaquins on the outside. Fortunately, the Seaquins were not deterred from presenting their "great detour."

The Warrior Marching Band, even with a large amount of newcomers, pushed its way through another successful season. Lead by Mr. Wright, the Warriors braved all kinds of weather to march at football pre-game and half-time shows.

The band did well at competitions this year. They placed first in the Maquoketa October Fest and captured first place in the Iowa Homecoming Parade. The band finished the season with a first place ribbon in the state marching competition.

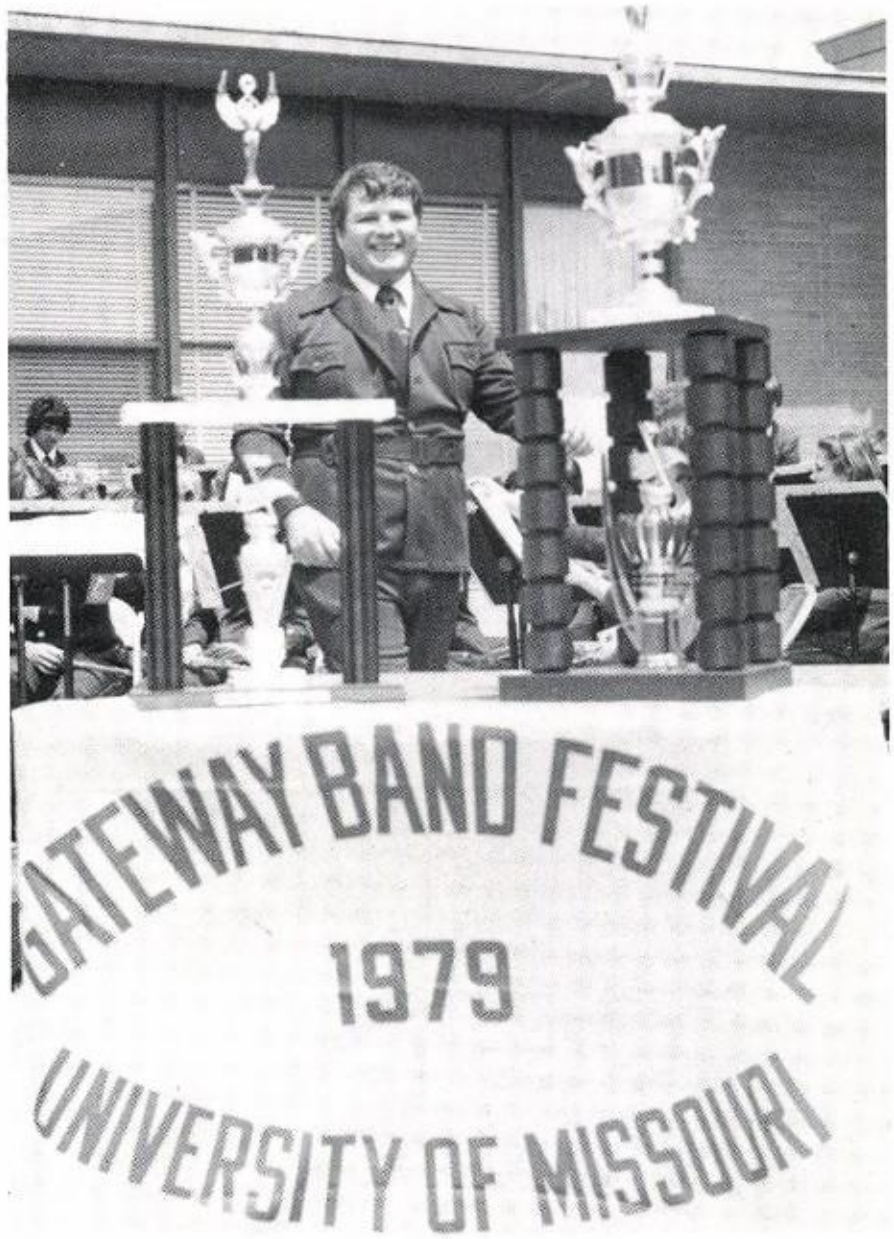
BAND TAKES 1ST AT GATEWAY FEST



Mr. Wright has every reason to be proud of his band.

CONCERT BAND: Erik Aanestad, Tim Adams, Elliott Bales, Jim Bristow, Ann Brockmeyer, Leslie Burns, Doug Burrell, Jami Burrell, Mary Bushnell, Elizabeth Cannon, Julie Carmichael, Cathy Cole, David Corell, Renee Craig, Ronda Craig, Sharon Crane, Ann Creger, Jeannete David, Karl Dietz, Rachel Druker, Ellen England, Paul Fabian, Jennifer Falt, Jim Fashimpaur, Tom Ginsberg, Frank Gorman, Gloria Grimm, Lisa Grommon, Lisa Grondahl, Eileen Guinnane, Brett Hardt, Kristine Hauge, Ed Hebl, Paul Hink, Tamera Hogan, Jeff Huggins, Cass Igram, Carolyn Kath, Cheryl Kesser, Julia Kimber, Erik Kocher, Jeff Krejci, Jeralyn Linnan, Elizabeth Maas, Jennifer Madson, David Marshall, Lee Martinson, Allison McIntosh, Debra Meyer, Greg Mills, Peggy Morrissey, Sandy Mykleby, Lisa Naxera, Bill Nissen, Ann Oglanian, Karla Olson, Cynthia Palmer, Roshelle Perry, Yvette Perry, Beth Popa, Barb Primrose, Richard Pugh, Matt Robe, Andrea Rowland, Lori Sandberg, Sarah Sears, Frank Schneider, Scott Schrader, Deborah Schultz, Debbie Smalley, David Southard, David Svoboda, Julie Utter, Suneetha Vaitheswaran, Cynthia Willits, Becky Zmoos, Rhonda Zmoos, Ernest Zonneveld.

After a very tough marching season, the Warrior Band sat back to rest for the remainder of the season . . . WRONG! The Concert Band had only two weeks to practice for their first stage performance. The rest of the year was just as hectic. The band had strong performances at the All-City Band Concert and the East Side Band Round-up.

The reward for all of this hard work was the band tour. This year it took the band to St. Louis, where the Warriors captured both the Class A and the All-Around Trophies at the Gateway Band Festival.

Reliving the '78-'79 concert season, band members will recall Suneetha's solos, Dave's humor, Erik's crisp, Scott's m-m-moooos, Ernie's Gr-r-r-s, Rachel's RACHELS, Brett's absences, and Matt's "good job."

But what really stands out the most are the things Mr. Wright sacrificed and the times he gave more than he thought he could. This is what made the Warrior Band of '79 the best so far . . . just wait till 1980!

O.E. is a combination of course work and practical experience for persons interested in office occupations. One of the members went visiting at the hospital in her rabbit outfit, demonstrating one of the goals of O.E.A. Service.

Recipients of this year's COOPERATIVE SPIRIT AWARD were Somthanom Vidhamali, Gretchen Lynxwiler, and Kathy Steiner.

O.E. . . . THE WORK (AND FUN) GOES ON . . .

Distributive Education (D.E.) is a co-operative program of education between the school, the employer, the business supervisor, the parent, and the student. One half of the day the student takes classes required for graduation, plus the D.E. related courses, studying subjects related to the part-time job. The other half of the day is spent at the selected place of employment. The student receives both pay and credits for graduation.

Activities such as Area, State, and Leadership Conferences are but a few of the things that make up D.E.

THE YEAR OF EXPERIENCE

To incorporate an array of abilities, jobs, and desires into one class, it would be T & I. The Trade and Industry program this year was an experience T & I students will never outlive. It gave them a chance to taste the future in a particular occupation and to discover their likes and dislikes. T & I opened the door to new friendships and opportunities.

Drama Tech Crew is an extra-ordinary group, headed by Technical Director, Mr. Wojtowicz. Some of its members are Thespians who work on every drama production. Others "drift" into the shop area, pick up a paint brush and stay a few hours.

Some Tech Crew members are jacks-of-all-trades; carpenters, painters, makeup artist—even designers of costumes, sets, and lighting. Others contribute in a single area.

The shop atmosphere is informal, the friendships form fast—and the work put out? Close-to-professional.

Both challenging and rewarding—that's a good description of the '78-'79 competition season of the Washington National Forensics League.

Kip Kolkmeier and Chip Magid, the Championship Team, won two tournaments at Davenport West and Ames. No small feat, Kolkmeier and Magid edged out over twenty other teams at each tournament.

Although the Varsity Team did not win any tournaments, they participated in some difficult debates.

The Novice Team won the Coe Tournament. And, like the Warrior champs they are, the Washington National Forensics League placed third in the Overall Sweepstakes at Coe.

Readers Theatre did well enough in the District meet to qualify for State competition. At State the group captured an overall rating of II.

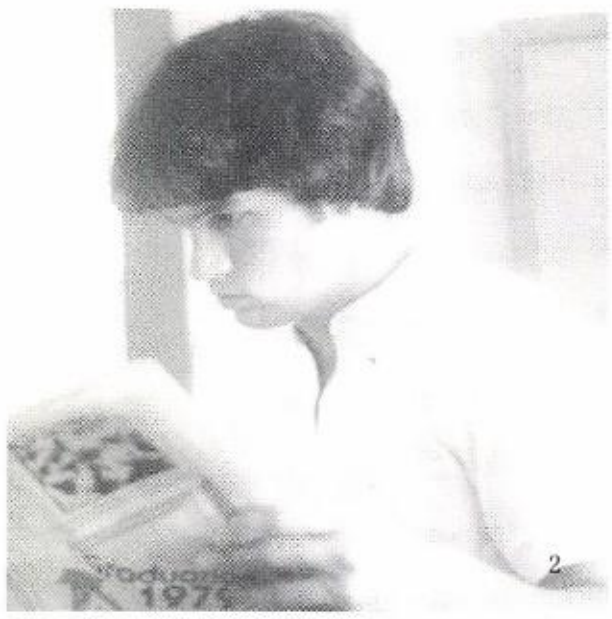
SURVEYOR



This year's "Surveyor" staff provided the student body with eight issues of topnotch newsreporting about who else, but themselves. The popularity of the "Surveyor" is on the rise. Editors Alison McCormick and John Ogden devoted many hours a week to "Surveyor" production, with the help of Mrs. Arnold who retired this year. Only kind words can be said of Mrs. Arnold as she is well liked by all and will be missed.

MONUMENT!

Faced with a shortage of staff members and a new advisor, it took alot of sweat and required burning some midnight candles in order to produce the 22nd volume of the Monument. Hopefully this yearbook will help you to remember the time and trends of your high school days, and 30 years from now when you dust off this book, a smile will come across your face and old memories will become new again.

'78-'79 Thespians worked both on-stage and backstage for two dramatic productions, "The Mousetrap" and for two music-theatre events, "Guys and Dolls" and MuDaCo.

In March Washington Thespians and several Jefferson Thespians journeyed to Chicago. While there they attended "Spring's Awakening" at the Body-Politic Theatre and an ice skating revue at McCormick Place.

Another spring highlight for the group was attending Drama Recognition Night at the Paramount Theatre. Thespian Advisors Mr. Wojtowicz and Mr. Ham Proudly watched members of their troupe be recognized, and some be awarded scholarships, for their achievements in the field of drama.

Forum had a lot of irons in the fire this year. In addition to regularly debating important student concerns, the student government sponsored its "usual" activities: the Fall Ball, Homecoming, and W.P.A. Week. Forum also initiated a fun week of dress up days; participated in a student exchange day with Kennedy, Jefferson, and Des Moines Valley; and sponsored Issues Day.

UNQUO: WORKING ON HUMAN RELATIONS

UNQUO was a new human relations group to explode on the Washington scene. Aimed at changing the status quo, UNQUO's student and faculty members strove toward open relationships among students and between students and faculty.

High points for UNQUO included assemblies and workshops conducted by nationally known human relations consultants, and FUNQUO DAY. Almost 300 students applied to participate in the workshops.

Late in May all students and faculty members were invited to FUNQUO, an afternoon of activities and relays, including tug-of-war, mattress races, and good, old-fashioned pie throwing.

One of nine faculty advisors, Miss Swenson takes a minute to pose with a few of her co-UNQUOers.

Being a Hospie is . . . being called to usher for a play on the spur of the moment . . . attending too-early-in-the-morning meetings . . . having to smile at the 10th couple of the evening who've sat in someone else's seats and having to gently, but firmly, tell them they must move!

HOSPITABLE HOSPIES

BACK TO NATURE

Hacking through forests, wriggling through caves and rappelling cliffs were all parts of the daily routines of the Iowa Naturalists this year. The group spent the year learning the skills needed to accomplish these feats, and also spent weekend camping trips perfecting them.

HOLA!

Spanish Club members wore bright costumes and hats at the dance festival they held at Lindale Plaza last fall. The festival, an attempt to depict some old Mexican dances and customs, was well-attended. The Cedar Rapids "Gazette" featured the event on its Picture Page.

Club members who attended the Spanish banquet later in the year sampled more than ten Spanish dishes. A post-banquet activity was breaking the piñata. After many attemps, it was split open. And while thirty greedy club members dove for the candy, Señora Aenlle warned them to save a piece for her!

LOOKING GOOD

FRENCH CLUB!

French Club spent a busy year meeting, planning and holding fund-raising events, and trying to keep their French brushed up! A dozen-plus girls kept the club going this year, including two foreign students, Susanna Walter and Dominique Puenzieux. The Foreign Language Picnic in Bever Park was a climax to a great year.

THEIR SPIRIT GOES ON . . . AND ON

POM POMS

Pom Poms are those girls with the indomitable spirit who keep the beat, wave their pom poms in unison,, and help promote school spirit. The '78-'79 Pom Poms kept busy during the year performing during football and basketball game half-times. They also marched in several parades and at several competitions with the Warrior Marching Band.

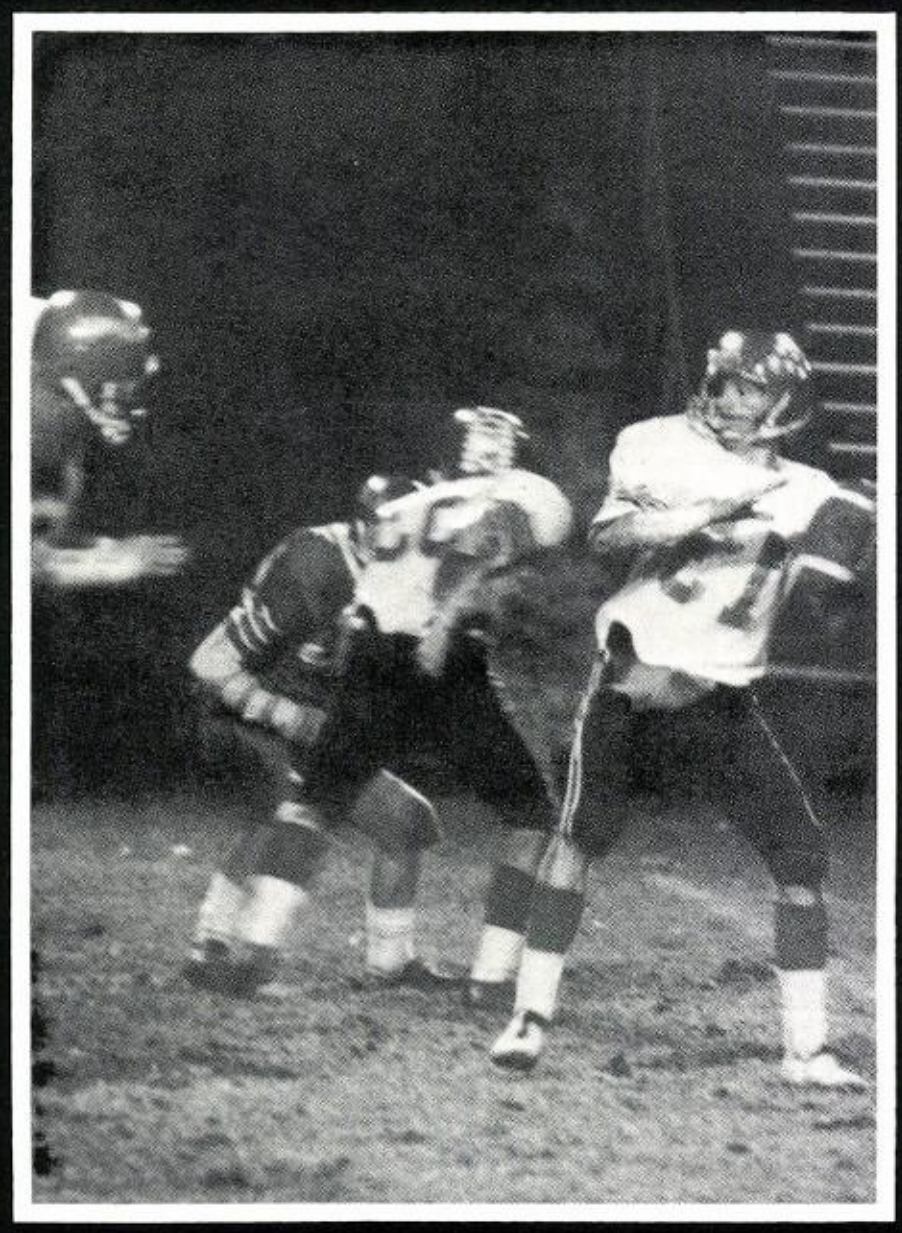
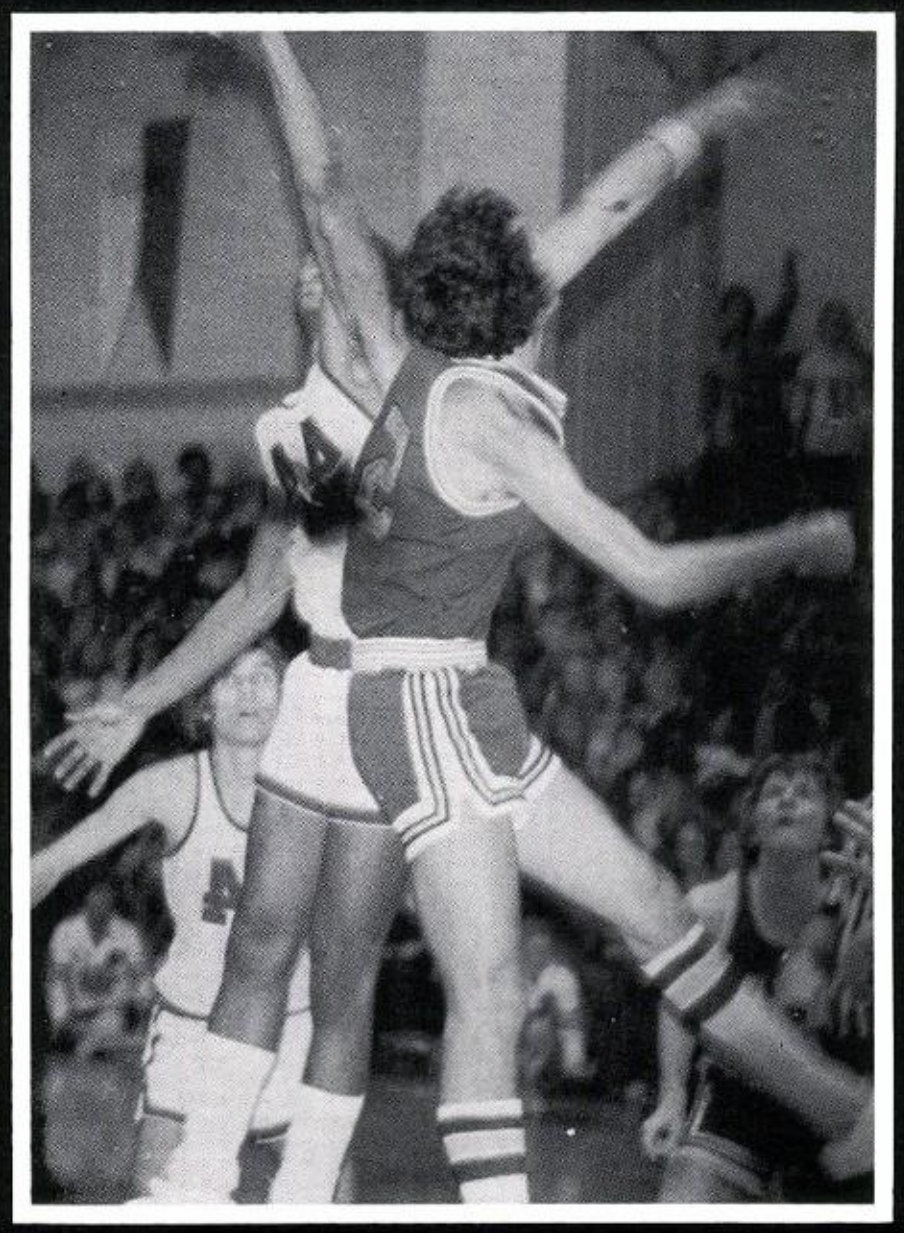
WARRIOR POWER





WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

This year's women's volleyball squad showed the determination and competitiveness that it takes to have a winning season. Coaches Tom Van Deest and Bill Desmarais helped the girls to do just that. Although the team did not place in statewide competition, their team unity and spirit earned them respect from other teams around the state.

Hard work and determination was evident this past year as the Warrior football squads enjoyed a highly successful season. The hopes of playing in "The Dome" were high as the close of the season neared, but the Warrior effort fell just short in the play-off game against Dubuque, due to the cold weather which was blamed for the dropping of many crucial passes.

Many of the men on the team made All-State as a result of their hard work and determination. Hard work and team spirit produced a combination that all schools in Iowa could look to and admire.

This year's Junior Varsity football squad gave the student body hopes for yet another successful season to come. They showed speed, strength and agility as they pounded out all other teams throughout the entire season. Hopes were high, as well as some fears as the season started, but grueling practices and school spirit pushed all fears and doubts behind them and team effort allowed them to smash all foes. From this season's success, it looks like another exciting season coming up this fall.

The Sophomore football squad showed success for their efforts this year as they captured the MVC title with no losses and one tie. The change in atmosphere from junior high to high school football was drastic, but superior coaching and dedication put the Warriors on top of the valley conference once again.

Women Take Second at State

This year was a good year for two Cedar Rapids swim teams, Washington and Kennedy. For the second year in a row these schools finished in the top two positions, with Kennedy on top. The women's performances at state couldn't have been better. Highlighted in the meet was diver Lori Anderson's top finish in diving.

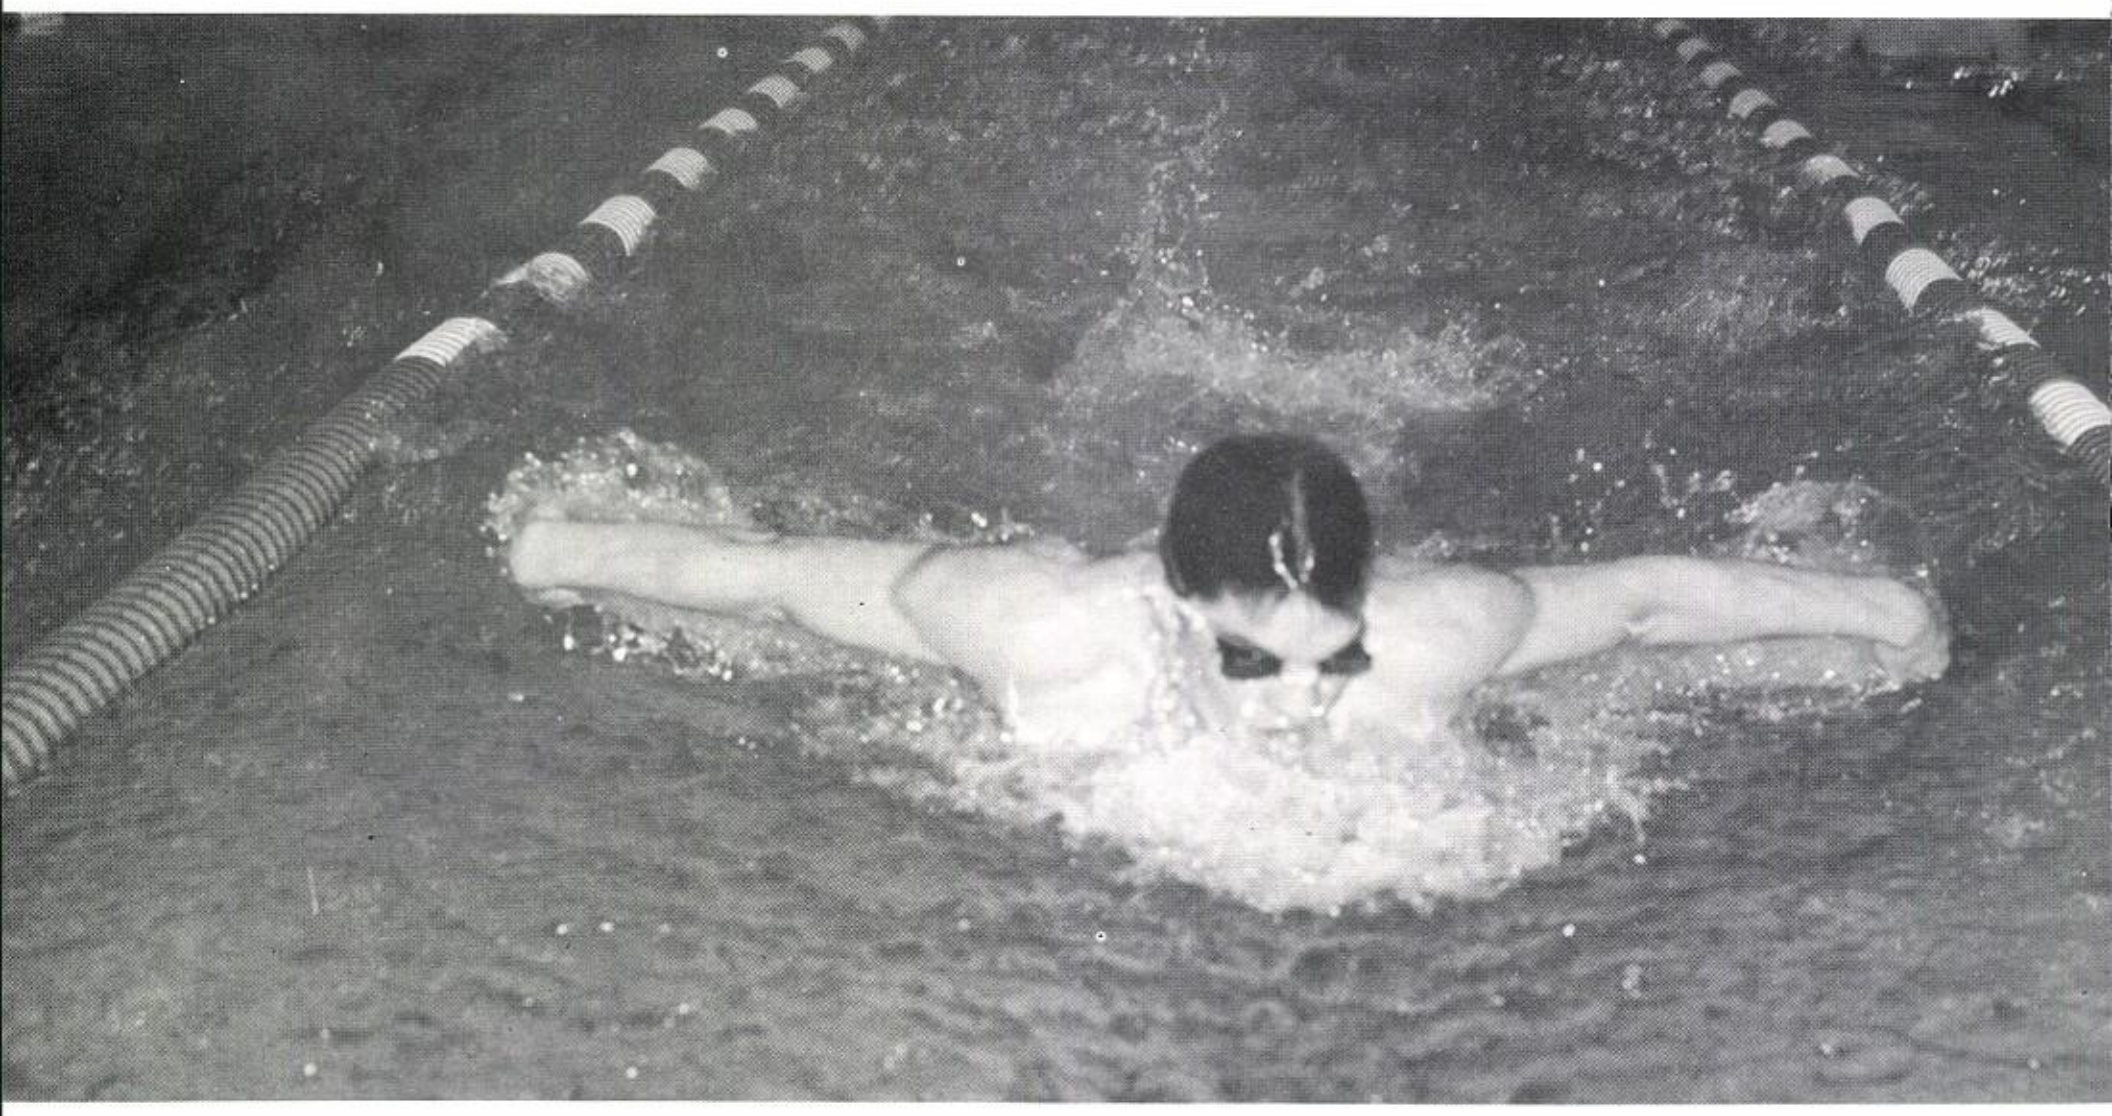
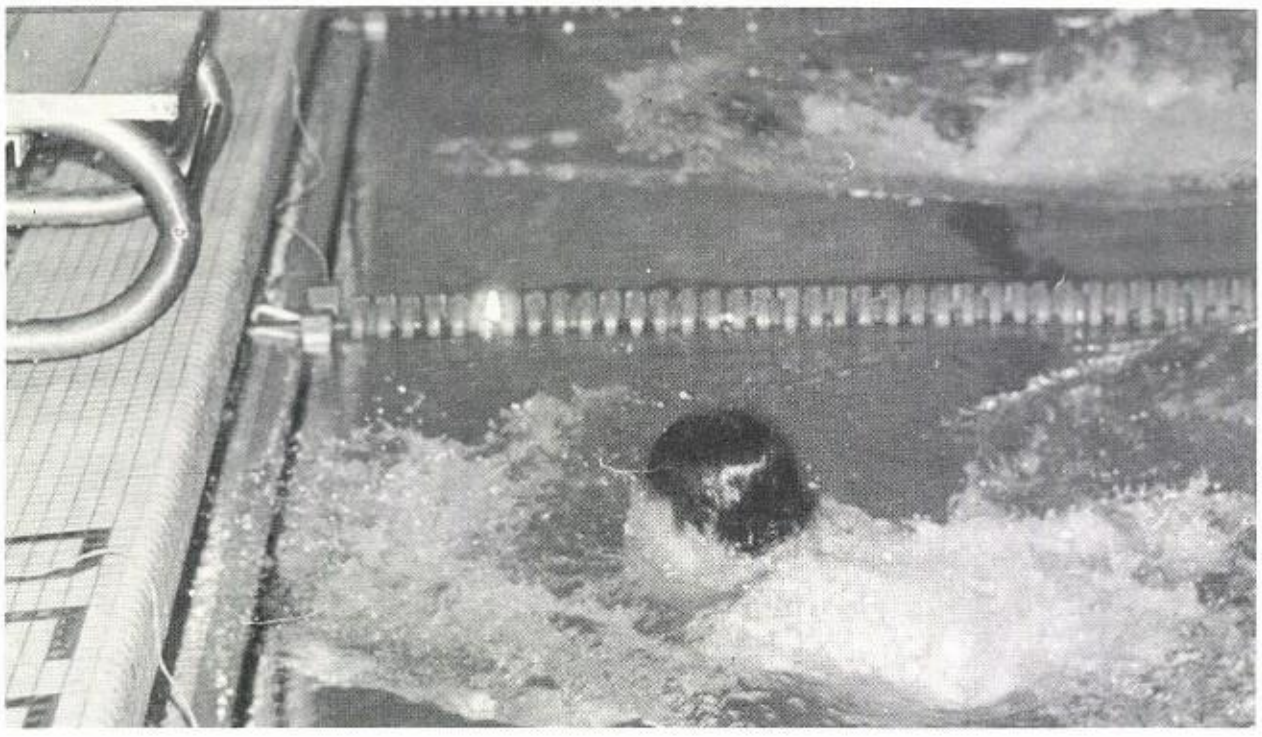
TANKERS LOSE TITLE BY ONE INCH!

Many swimmers will painfully recall Mr. Voss's comments at mid-season as he stated the team did not have state championship potential. After one team meeting and two weeks of grueling workouts, the Warrior swimmers shocked the state by revenging an earlier loss. They beat #1 ranked Kennedy in what was billed as the best dual meet in the state.

The men's swimming squad gave everything they could muster at state this year. The outcome of the meet was decided by the free relay. Unfortunately, the team of Pet Phelan, Steve Johnson, Jim Nelson and Chris Williams lost 1st place by only one inch and allowed Mason City the state title. Both Chris Williams and diver Kent Ferguson received All-American honors for their fine performances during the season.





1. Dave LeBuhn's speedy butterfly has Chris Williams worried as he watches from behind. 2. Doug Wolfe and Bob Colquhoun virtually tie in a pre-meet time trial.

A TRIBUTE TO STATE SWIMMERS

A year we should have won. But sometimes others do just a little better, this year with the help of other teams. The meet was the most exciting state championship held in years. Every swimmer did his best to perform up to his maximum capabilities. Most found themselves swimming faster than they ever thought they could.

SET YOUR OWN PACE

The men's cross country team of 1978 exhibited another winning season. The varsity squad ended its season with a dual meet record of 3-0 and an overall record of 20-7, while the junior varsity did just as well, finishing 19-2. The varsity was aided by the strong running of senior Jeff Koontz, junior John Riley, and sophomore Todd Wimer. Jeff Koontz was the only runner to make state. He finished 14th out of a field of 86 runners.

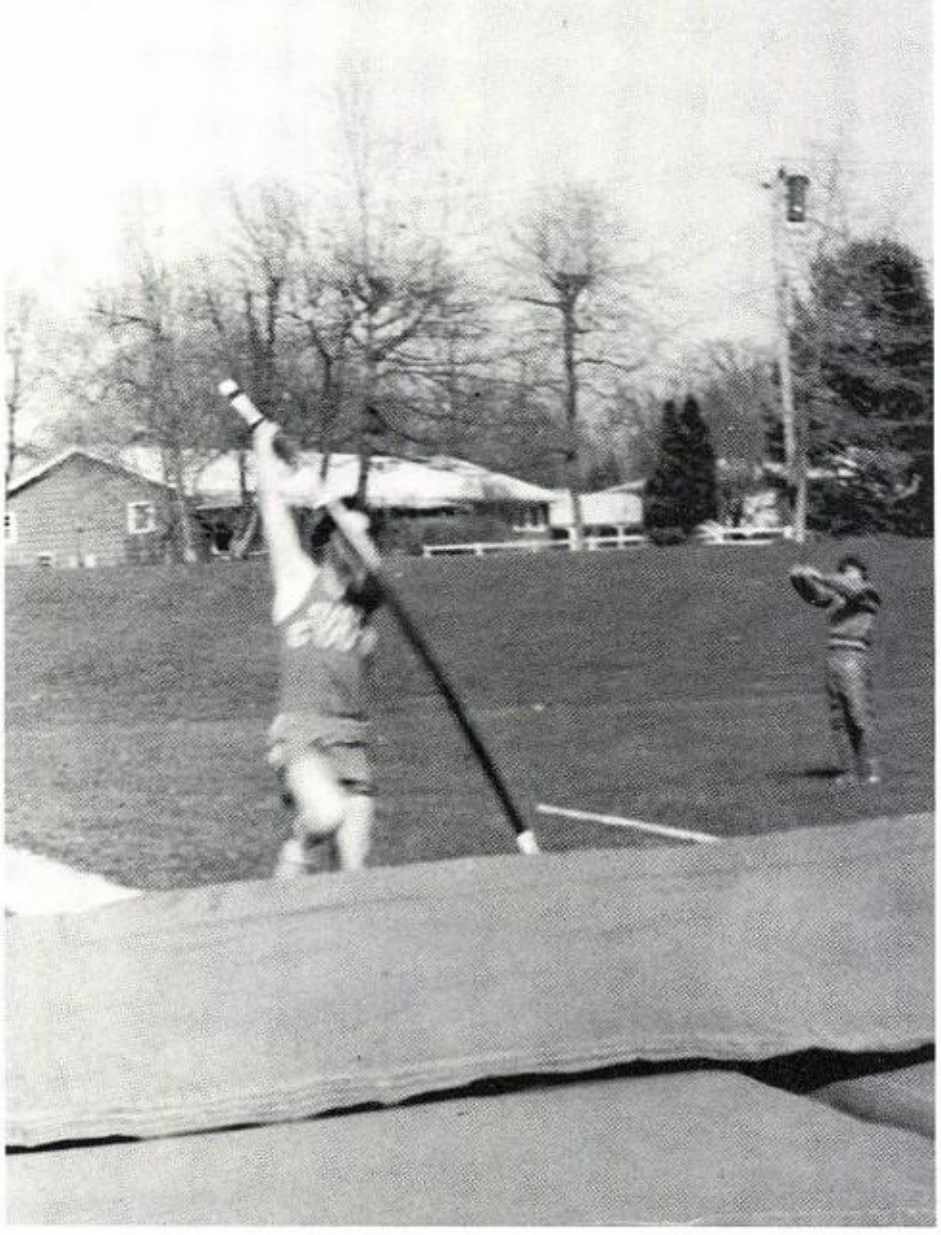
KEEPING IN STRIDE



The Men's Track team might have started off slow, but they finished very strong; And they will have a fairly large field returning.

This year's team was highlighted by Kirk Hobb's high jumps, Chris Leighton's pole vaults, John Riley's miles, and Mark Williams's sprints. The team didn't have an individual standout, but because the team was so well balanced, they were able to place well in all of their meets.

DOLLARS FOR

Dollars For Scholars is a scholarship program sponsored by many local businesses and individuals. Scholarship winners are seniors chosen by the departments they have both excelled in and contributed to during their three years at Washington. Each winner received a $50 scholarship to apply toward tuition at the trade school or college of his choice. Scholarship money was partially raised at a spring concert jointly presented by Wash, Jeff, and Kennedy music groups.

HOMECOMING

Homecoming got underway with students casting votes for twelve queen candidates. Spirit Week helped build the momentum with students participating in activities including: slob, hat and sunglasses, favorite sport, western, and spirit days. Forum culminated the week as the twelve candidates were introduced during the Queen's Assembly. A pep assembly Friday morning fired up the Warriors for a win. That night Washington showed the Iowa City Little Hawks what it meant to be ranked fifth in the state. During half-time festivities Molly Martens was crowned the new Homecoming Queen. The festivities caught more of the spirit as the pom poms and band performed their drills.

"After the Gold Rush," the theme of Homecoming, created the mood for the celebration as the gym was decorated with a Wild, Wild West set. Forum captured the spirit in these decorations. Brian Jeffery and Anita Widman, the winners of the Forum and Surveyor–sponsored dance contest, won two tickets to the Little Feat concert in Iowa City. From slow dances to popular tunes, Fantasii provided a variety of songs, including a serenade for Queen Molly Martens and her escort, Jeff Huggins.

IN THE FIVE SEASONS

1. The Class of '79! 2. Tom Daugherty thinks about his post-graduation plans.

The Class of '79—a large class of over 450—was the first Washington class to have the distinction of graduating at the new Five Seasons Civic Center. Graduation was at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, May 31st—a memorable day for the 450-plus being honored.

This book tells a story of the school year. It may not have the same anatomy as a novel, but each picture in the book says a thousand words in itself.

As much as we all like or dislike high school, I haven't yet met a student who isn't proud to be a Washington Warrior. We all belong to an elite group. Schools all around Iowa respect us for our spirit, determination, and pride. Each of us is surrounded with these qualities from the day we first enter Washington's doors, until we leave with diplomas in hand. Maybe we've all had some disappointments like losing the Homecoming game, or failing a exam, but after the anger and frustration have dissolved, we're still proud to be Warriors.

Five, ten, or even fifty years from now, when you take this book from the attic, I hope the same pride will fill you. I know I will always be proud to be a Washington Warrior.

Sincerely,
Tim Palmer, Editor-in-Chief
1979 MONUMENT

The MONUMENT staff would like to thank all those persons who helped us throughout the school year and the summer in producing this book. Thanks also to Sondy Daggett whose help was priceless.
